Home Equity Line of Credit	Home equity lines of credit may be used for home improvements and accessed when need arises. *Lender Unsecured/Personal Loans	For less expensive modifications, a homeowner or renter can apply for a personal loan at their bank. Remodeler Issued Financing Remodeler issued unsecured loan	A remodeler motivated by service more than immediate profit may consider self-funding all or part of a home modification project for a deserving homeowner. This could be done simply in the spirit of giving or it could be part of a marketing promotion of the remodeler's commitment to giving back to its community. Either could include donated labor by the remodeler or material contributed by the remodeler's suppliers.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Homeowners</li> </ul>

Secured Loans Against Homeowner's Bank Accounts	Homeowners can take out a loan against their own financial assets held by their local bank to fund home modification projects. The household may be eligible to receive up to a certain percentage of the CD's value (e.g., 80%) for a term shorter than the CD's, or if the CD is renewed when its term expires, the loan against it may be extended.
Secured Loans Against Homeowner's Financial Investment Accounts	A margin loan is money typically borrowed from your bank or investment firm to buy additional shares or managed funds. Many times, the proceeds from a margin loan can be used for other purposes such as real estate investments or improvements. As an investment strategy, a margin loan can be a successful way to grow your wealth. A margin loan is usually offered at below market interest rates as you are basically borrowing your own money. The loan can expose you to a range of taxation benefits, and the added security of diversifying your investment portfolio.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Homeowners</li> </ul>

In addition to new construction, Habitat renovates existing homes, particularly in urban areas, and helps people repair and improve their own homes and neighborhoods.	Families in need of decent, affordable housing apply for homeownership with their local Habitat for Humanity. Each local Habitat's family selection committee selects homeowners based on three criteria: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The applicant's level of need.</li> <li>• Their willingness to partner with Habitat.</li> <li>• Their ability to repay a mortgage through an affordable payment plan.</li> </ul> As part of their willingness to partner, Habitat's homebuyers invest hundreds of hours of their own labor, called sweat equity, working alongside volunteers and other Habitat homeowners. Habitat for Humanity follows a nondiscriminatory policy of family selection. Neither race nor religion is a factor in choosing Habitat's homeowners.
